SCIENTIFIC BIOGRAPHY

Il focus della mia ricerca sulla fisica sperimentale della materia condensata riguarda la dimostrazione di dispositivi e sistemi prototipali su scala nanometrica per applicazioni nei campi della conversione di energia. Attualmente sto lavorando su sistemi ibridi che combinano materia soffice e dispositivi a stato solido a bassa dimensione, ho progettato, costruito e caratterizzato prototipi di dispositivi quantistici realizzati utilizzando nanostrutture a semiconduttore singolo come blocchi costitutivi, inclusi in particolare nanofili omogenei (es. InAs, InSb, GaAs) ed eterostrutturati (es. InAs / InP, GaAs-AlAs, InAs-GaSb), o materiali bidimensionali, concentrandosi sulla loro capacità di controllare i gradi di libertà di carica e spin delle singole cariche elementari, nonché di controllare l'interazione radiazione- importa.

Le principali competenze e linee di ricerca nell'area della fisica sperimentale della materia condensata, delle nanoscienze e delle nanotecnologie sono:

- ✚ Progettazione, realizzazione e dimostrazione di prototipi di sistemi e dispositivi nanostrutturati per tecnologie quantistiche
- ✚ Fabbricazione di dispositivi a micro e nano scala, micro e nano pattern di superfici mediante tecniche di litografia
- ✚ Spettroscopie ottiche e di trasporto, anche a basse temperature
- ✚ Trasporto elettronico e termico nelle nanostrutture, termoelettricità a scala nanometrica
- ✚ Dispositivi a singolo elettrone per tecnologie quantistiche
- ✚ Sistemi e dispositivi basati su nanofili semiconduttori, compresi i metamateriali
- ✚ Protocolli di nanofabbricazione per lo sviluppo di dispositivi innovativi classici e quantistici
